Remember how I said my last post was full of good advice that I'd inevitably ignore? I've gone and done it again.

I couldn't wait until Thursday, so Breaker of Chains is available now on DMs Guild!

There'll be a Stat Boost post later this evening, where I'll talk about laying out your adventure on a budget and some of the last minute things you'll need to account for before publication. Those things take up a surprising amount of time - one of the reasons today's post is later in the day - and things will go much, much smoother if you prepare for them in advance.

Until then, check out Breaker of Chains and let me know what you think!
